HOSTS

WEEK 1

Alasdair Tremblay-Birchall is a Canadian/Australian standup and sketch performer based in Melbourne. He also writes for TV, on such programs as CH10's The Project, Shaun Micallef's Mad as Hell, ABC'S Dirty Laundry Live and Stupid Old Studios's Australia Get It Up Ya.

@atremblaybirchall

WEEK 2

Georgie Darvidis is one of Melbourne's most versatile and adventurous young artists. Early musical study exploring theatre and classical vocal technique led to major roles with The Melbourne Theatre Company and The Victorian Opera Company. She also teaches and performs drag as Edie Centric.

@ediecentric

WEEK 3

Henry Yan is a comedian who recently won the National RAW comedy competition. He is goofy, optimistic but most importantly quirky in style. He loves to make people feel awkward with his silly sensibilities.

@henryyan.comedy

WEEK 4

Charlotte Nicdao is an Australian actress. She is known for starring as Jackie Lee in the Nine Network series A gURLs wURLd and as Poppy Li in the Apple TV+ comedy Mythic Quest.

@charlottenicdao

WEEK 5

Ciaran Frame makes music, and thinks that everyone should be able make music too. He has made music, and made people make music, all around the world – whether it be turning people into instruments or getting 10,000 people to toot on a kazoo at the same time.

SCHOOLHOUSE STUDIOS

Founded in 2012, Schoolhouse Studios creates affordable workspaces for artists and creatives.

We thoughtfully convert disused buildings into ever-evolving places for creative expression and connection for artists, independent creative businesses, activists, social enterprises, and much more. We are home to over 80 resident artists, and host events and workshops in our gallery and spaces.

You can review Schoolhouse Studio's Child Safety Policy here.
