

Last summer, we went to Pakistan to meet my grandparents. They have a huge house. it's super cool. There was a storeroom in the house that was always closed. We played hide and seek in the house, and I hide in the storeroom. It was my favourite place to hide.

One day, we played hide and seek and I hide myself in the storeroom. It was dark there. I was hiding there and suddenly I heard a voice of an animal. I turned the lights on and I saw a cute dog. He was a very cute dog. He told me his name was Tiger. He spoke to me and then we became best friends. We would play every day in the store room. Tiger told me not to tell anyone about him. I kept it a secret. At night, when everyone would go to sleep, Tiger and I went on adventures. Tiger could only fly at night. We would fly over big houses and trees. Tiger would show me very cool places. We would have so much fun. We would also go to parks and play there.

But sadly, my vacations were over soon. We had to come home back to Australia. I so wanted to bring a tiger with me. But Tiger told me that he couldn't leave my grandparent's house. If he left the house, his powers would go away. He told me that I could only meet him whenever I visited Pakistan. I miss Tiger very much and I can't wait to meet him in November this year. We are going to Pakistan again to have so much fun and to meet Tiger. I have shared my secret with my sister. She is also very excited to meet Tiger.
